

THE GAZETTE.

JANESVILLE THURSDAY, JUNE 5.

The new state of Washington has a man by the name of Thomas H. Tongue. The people will likely send him to congress where his services are wanted.

The hope is growing less in regard to a general pension bill. Between the senate and the house there is such a division of opinion and a stubbornness of purpose, that many a worthy soldier will be unjustly deprived of a pension.

The highest corner any party ever got into will be that in which the Wisconsin democrats will back into this fall on the educational law. Between the fear of offending the Germans opposed to the law, and that of insulting the intelligence of the democratic party, they will be in a desperate pickle.

Mrs. Chandler, widow of "Old Zed," is building an elegant house in Washington, the materials of which are white marble and Milwaukee brick. Mrs. Chandler's house will be one of the largest in the city and is to cost nearly $100,000. Herein is one case in which Milwaukee beats Chicago. No one ever heard of Chicago brick or Chicago beer.

That wonderful political gymnast, General Ben. Butler, is doing another queer thing. He wants General Alger for president. General Butler is not himself unless he is queer. Just see how he mixes up his politics: He has supported Jeff Davis, Lincoln, Grant, Tilden, Denis Kearney, Hancock, Cleveland, Henry George, Harrison, and now Alger. It is a question whether General Alger should be congratulated. It looks otherwise than yes.

Mr. Roger Q. Mills, the noted democratic free trade leader, is sick again—down sick. He spent several months in unremittent labor on his tariff bill in the winter and spring of 1889 and afterwards took the stump and made an extended tour advocating the reelection of Mr. Cleveland. His exertions in that campaign were far too great for a man's strength and at the close he was obliged to take to his bed. He has ever since shown in his appearance the trying effects of those labors. That tariff bill made a good many democrats sick at heart if not in body.

That was a fine sentence in President Harrison's speech at the Garfield monument celebration when he said: "The selection of this day for these exercises, a day consecrated to the memory of those who died that there might be one flag of honor and authority in this republic, is most fitting. The one flag enforces us with its folds to-day, the universal object of our loyal love."—Inter Ocean.

That was a fine closing sentence President Harrison sent to Warner Miller November 9, 1888: "I am greatly grieved at your defeat. If the intrepid leader fell outside the breastworks, the column inspired by his courage, went on to victory." Poor Miller would like to see that dispatch to the administration.

Sam Small is a meandering sort of a fellow. At first he joined the Methodists, but last year, wishing for a more quiet ministerial life, he joined the Episcopalians, but the dispatches say that he has been elected to the presidency of a Methodist university at Ogden, Utah. Sam is a character, and in many ways a good one. He is a bright young man, full of earnestness, cleaner cut than Sam Jones, and has more sense and a good deal more piety. The blackguardism of Jones is not found in the speech and manners of Small. If Mr. Small does go to Ogden as reported, he will have made the shortest trip ever known from the barroom to the presidency of a university—only four years.

Now it is, or should be, the merchant's and people's turn to be heard in the senate. If they are denied a hearing there, with the consequences of the McKimley bill in its present shape, form, becoming a law, they will not be denied one at the polls. If the senate will not hear them in committee, it will hear of them in the ballot-box. The senate is not only now especially charged with the protection of the welfare of the country in respect of the McKimley bill but of the welfare of the republican party, as the party's future success, especially in 1890 and 1892, depends upon the bill being so amended as to make it a measure of industrial protection for capital and labor instead of a measure for the enrichment of the few at the cost of the many. The party cannot carry a measure which, in its inception, was meant to reorganize a special class for its contributions to campaign corruption funds—a measure which enormously increases the cost of running a state—five million people, not to protect but to increase the profits, ready to gratify the manufacturers in return for the fat bribe out of them.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Here is a strong republican paper fighting against the McKimley bill: Why? It doesn't like the increased duties on wool and woolen goods, and on tin plates and on carpet wool and so on. There are some features of the McKimley bill which should be condemned by the senate. There are some which are in keeping with the spirit of practical tariff reform. I have taken from the free list 18 articles and placed a duty on them, such as eggs, broom corn, straw, fish, and camel's hair. It has placed 44 articles on the free list. But as a whole, the bill needs reforming to suit the spirit of the times.

REFORM THE COLLEGES.
In view of the disgraceful occurrence which happened last Saturday it is extremely doubtful whether an atmosphere of culture such as the described case at Harvard college and whether any action of its management, unless it be in the direction of sternly punishing the guilty, will be of any use. A dispatch from Boston states that the outcome of Harvard's victory over Yale in a game of base ball was a gang of students defaced the statue of Harvard's founder of the institution, from pedestal to summit with red paint, and in a similar manner shamelessly defaced the elegant memo-

CLOUD BURST IN IOWA.

Fearful Destruction of Property by Storms in Western Iowa and Nebraska Yesterday.

BRADSHAW, NEBRASKA, DESTROYED BY A CYCLONE.

Not One House Left—Fearful Destruction Wrought by the Storm in Nebraska and Iowa.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 5.—The most disastrous cyclone that has visited the West for years struck the little town of Bradshaw, Neb. county, about 10 o'clock last night. This morning there is not one building left standing and hardly one stone upon another. Among the ruins were lying the dead bodies of the storm's victims, and frightened people with blanched faces moved among their wrecked homes seeking on every hand but black, gaping holes in the earth where but a few hours before had been the cozy houses of a happy people. The fury of the wind that wrought this terrible devastation must have been appalling. The shapeless wreck, the country laid waste, the village in ruins and the bodies of the dead that have been recovered, together with the many wounded and suffering, formed a picture full of horror and despair. The storm came from the southwest and with scarcely a moment's warning. The roar of the whirlwind was the first notice the terrified people had. Every business house was made a total wreck, and the principal street filled with ruins. The depot building was crushed into kindling wood, and every car standing there was wrecked except one that was loaded with stock, and which was blown without leaving the track to York, a distance of nine miles. The dead and injured were quickly found by the people, and a courier was dispatched at driving speed to York for assistance. By the time the relief trains arrived from York, the people had collected together and found the following dead:

JOHN MILLER, child of Isaac Penner, living in the county.

MRS. PENNER, widow of Mr. Chapin.

MRS. MINKE and child.

JOHN CLARKE, Mr. Minke's hired man.

ANNE and JOHN SHAW, children of Frank Shaw, living in the county.

To-day the work has been extended in searching for the results of the storm to the surrounding country, and south-west of Bradshaw two miles it was found that the house of John Scott had been directly in the center of the storm and that in his family three children were killed. In the immediate vicinity also the house of a Russian family has been totally demolished and the mother and one child were found dead in the wreckage. Along the track of the storm, which was half a mile in width, trees were uprooted, fences leveled, and crops utterly destroyed. Dead stock was found in many places, showing that nothing living had any chance for escape from the fury of the elements.

CLOUD BURST IN IOWA.

The People of Underwood Forced to Flee for Their Lives.

CONANT, IOWA, June 5.—About 10 o'clock a dense cloud passed over the town of Underwood, a small place on the Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, twelve miles from this city. A heavy rain fell, and the wind, rushing down the Mosquito Valley, destroyed everything in its path. The cloud had burst but a short distance from Underwood, but residents of that place were warned by a terrific noise, and most of them managed to escape to the hills. In less than thirty minutes the Milwaukee railroad track was covered to a depth of fifteen feet, all the stores and dwellings in the Western part of the place were torn from their foundations, and no less than thirty-five families lost their all. There were many narrow escapes, and but for the heroism and bravery of people who reside near the Rock Island depot many women and children would have been lost. They hastily constructed rafts and rescued people from roofs of houses and second-story windows. The Milwaukee depot was submerged. The storm swept on down the valley, but farmers were apprised of its approach and escaped, but hundreds of cattle, hogs, and sheep, many barns and dwellings, and stacks of hay were swept away. Both roads lost over eight miles of track and no less than five bridges each. This immense volume of water reached this city at 10 o'clock and spread over the lowlands; highways were badly damaged, and at 10 o'clock there was eight feet of water in the first stories of houses near the river.

AVOCA, Ia., June 5.—Within forty-eight hours a heavy rainfall has flooded this locality, accompanied by hail, high winds and lightning. The Bona Valley now carries a stream one to two miles wide, while it is ordinarily not over twenty feet wide. A large amount of stock will be lost and many small losses from wind and lightning are reported. Extensive washouts on the railroads are reported between here and Council Bluffs.

IN THE PATH OF A CYCLONE.

Great Destruction in Portions of Iowa and Minnesota.

PORT DOVER, Iowa, June 5.—A destructive cyclone struck northeast of this city between Badger and Vincent. It worked its way along the Boone river, destroying everything in its path. At Newkirk a man was killed and several houses destroyed. The big iron bridge near Newkirk was also blown away.

ZUMBROTA, Minn., June 5.—A terrible storm occurred this afternoon. In forty minutes the stream which runs through the center of this village had risen to such a height that residents had to fly for their lives. Houses, barns, fences, and poultry were swept away. P. S. Tigert's barn, containing ten teams was carried a mile down stream. The Zumbro river is rising rapidly and fears are entertained for people on the main Zumbro below here. The damage along the route of the storm is very great. A rumor comes from Millville that five persons were swept away and drowned.

ACKLEY, Iowa, June 5.—A cloud-burst occurred here this morning, and water fell in sheets for several hours. Bridges and culverts on railroads and highways were washed out. A freight train on the Illinois Central ran into a wrecked in a washout one mile south of Ackley. Cattle horses and hogs were swept away. Cornfields are badly washed out. The Presbyterian Church and Revere House were struck by lightning and badly damaged.

New before could we show such a line of ladies', children and gent's hosiery as now. We have the finest line of China silks for dresses and ornaments in the city. Spoon & Snyder.

A few boarders wanted at 206 South First street.

The Whirligig of Time

Is a funny old. Six months ago we could not have offered you the John G. Sax home, 114 Fourth avenue, at ANY price; but to-day we do offer it at from $300 to $500 less than its real value. Mr. Sax's interest in Chicago is daily increasing, and his prospects are so bright there that he now wants to sell his Janesville home. What more natural, than that he should select the "Get there" agents to dispose of it? To anyone who wants a home in that locality we will offer this one so low that they can't help buying it.

Yours very truly,
GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Just for a Whirl.

We have sold that delightful Howard property, South Main, South Third and Bluff streets. Mr. Treat is happy; Mr. Heimstreet is happy; we are happy, and others happy; you could not possibly designate any of us CLAMS. Could you?

Yours very truly,
GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Time is Money.

That is why we work any business entrusted to us, with a WHIRL. Sometimes when you have a sale of Real Estate closed,—as you think,—the prospective buyer "gigs back" on you, and then, where are you? This explains why we OCCASIONALLY talk about some fine property for several weeks, but up to date we have NEVER failed to sell a property placed in our hands, except those properties yet unsold; See? And even those few we are going to sell later on.

Yours very truly,
GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

But While we are Talking of Wagons.

We would say that our "Bus"—the Carrington "Bus"—runs regularly there. Forest Park, Glenn-Etta and Riverview and you can ride cheap. Why not all take a wagon? Or as the poet puts it: "let life wag on east may; the glorious climate of California is lovely." Let us ride.

Yours very truly,
GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

There Are Vehicles of Enterprise

Take the newspaper for instance, how much can be conveyed in a twelve line squib! How much can be said in a two inch "Ad"! What we desire to say is, if you seek a home site, if you seek a safe investment, if you want a business property to improve (we have two such, RANSOUP ones too), if you want to sell property of any kind and sell it RIGHT, we are your right power. Don't bring into us any property that you would like to unload on to some one else at more than its value, we have not any time and less inclination to listen to your "tale of woe," but if you have property of any kind, real estate of course, (we don't dicker in old junk) that you want to move quick at a price that is an object for a buyer, we can and will sell it. We have our own peculiar methods, and to those methods you must conform. Our first article of faith is: The property must be offered RIGHT.

Yours very truly,
GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

"Do You Remember that Night In June?"

How hot it was? We were out you know "upon the Danube river" and how lovely was the view! That was back before Riverview Park was discovered and that was why we were out. Now when we want to take in all that is lovely, all that is charming to the eye and ear and restful to the mind and tuneful to the heart, we hitch up Flora and drive up Clark street to top of the hill, and stopping with the mare's head to the north we just sit and sit and gaze and gaze. What do you do?

Yours very truly,
GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

And as We Gaze

We think, till it seems to us that none but the blind could possibly pass by the lovely Home sites of Forest, Glenn-Etta and Riverview without being made better men and women just from gazing alone, and then when they become owners in either section they become not only BETTER but also richer; richer in money, richer in all that goes to make up a noble life. For what friends, helps on to noble, true living so much as a wisely selected, wisely built, wisely occupied HOME. These requisites can all be met in Janesville, in the 3d ward especially, more especially in Forest (Glenn-Etta and Riverview).

Remember that during JUNE we shall offer inducements that we shall never repeat. Yours very truly, GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

And So

At 10:30 p. m. this 34th day of May, with the thermometer in our office marking 83 degrees, we say come and see us, talk to us freely about your wants in home or in home sites. Let us drive you to any or all of our offerings, or if you will ride up to Forest, Glenn-Etta or Riverview; let us give you "bus passes for that ride and if we don't interest you, it won't cost you a cent. We have the property, we know how to handle it, we want your patronage, and every customer we make is sure to bring us another one. This is the way we deal.

Yours very truly,
GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

ply say in explanation that Mr. Jackson's name has been omitted at his personal request. Every resident of the city who Mr. Jackson represents and the people fully appreciate the efforts of that gentleman, as well as other influences that contributed to the result.

Hang out the Banner.

The buggy month of June is here.
Look out for six weeks of buggy biting time; the bugs will eat up all your house plants and garden truck for The cabbage bug has the golden wing.
The potato bug has the same.
The Aphis has scarce wings at all,
But gets there just the same.
The current worm has all the crawl,
And Hammond's slug shot kills them all.
Hammond's slug-shot is for sale by Walter Helms, and the best thing invented for destroying bugs and insects.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be found to the taste and to the eye easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effect. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

CONCERTS IN THE PARKS.

The Bower City Band Will Give a Series of Open Air Concerts in the City Parks.

LAYING OF SIDE TRACKS PRO-GRESSES VERY SLOWLY.

Strong Wind Storm and Considerable Local Damage—The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

A subscription paper has been circulated by members of the Bower City Band among the business men of the city. The amount asked for, is one dollar per month, and in case a sufficient number will sign, the concert will be given weekly in the Court House Park and Corn Exchange Square, alternately until October 15th.

The money raised is not for the members of the band individually, but goes to pay the salary of the teacher and leader, Prof. J. B. Bates. Prof. Bates is a competent musician and instructor, and is believed from the pockets of the members of the organization with the help of money paid for their services. The series of the band has been known throughout the city, in time past, as maintaining one of the best musical organizations in the northwest, but for several years has not had a good band. The present organization is composed of good timber and they are making splendid progress. The series of concerts will be a good thing for the city and should be encouraged by the business men in a liberal manner. The instructor must be paid and, at the same time, the band would like to be able to buy uniforms.

THE SIDE TRACKS.

No New Developments—The Progress of the Work.

There is nothing new regarding the laying of the side tracks of the Northwestern railway, in addition to that published in last evening's Gazette. The workmen continued laying the track to the Harris' barbed-wire factory last evening, and today work has been suspended pending negotiations for right of way.
As soon as this is obtained, the work will proceed.

The St. Paul company is at work with a small force of men building their bridge just below the dam, and adjusting their side track where completed.

The railway men are working very quietly and are not telling people what they are going to do. The only way for the people to obtain information, is to read the papers and keep their eyes open and watch for developments.

One thing certain, the Gazette can assure the shippers of Janesville that they will soon have a complete system of side tracks. Just wait a little while longer.

THE HIGH WIND.

Grubb Brothers Have Another Large Fan of Glass Broken.

The high wind of this afternoon did considerable damage about town. Several shade trees were blown down and broken off in different parts of the city.
The gentle zephyrs caught the awning of Grubb Bros' store and twisting it around drove it through one of the magnificent plate glass windows. The window was one of the largest single panes in the city and was valued at $100.00. It was insured in a plate glass insurance company. Some time ago one of the plates was broken by being hit by a large stone which was thrown at a dog.

Wind also tore off most of the tin on the north side of the roof of H. G. Carter's lively stable. The damage will amount to about $100.00.

This afternoon a rumor was set at that Beloit was all on fire and burning up.
It was also reported that the city of Freeport was all torn up by a tornado.
After chasing the rumors as far as Beloit they were found to be groundless. The wind storm is the most severe that has visited this section for a number of years.
The air has been filled with dust and smoke all the afternoon, and with the high wind has carried fearful forebodings to timid people.

FIRE AT PLATTVILLE.

The Depot and Several Elevators. Destroyed—Loss $5,000—Insurance $2,000.

During the storm on Tuesday morning about three o'clock, lightning ran into the depot on the telegraph wires at Platt-ville, setting the depot on fire. The building was quickly burned to the ground. Several cars were on the track close to the burning building, including the whole passenger train. All were saved by being pushed out of range. The St. Paul's grain elevator, occupied by Thos. Shepherd, containing large quantities of clover and alfalfa seed, grain, besides a car load of McCormick harvesters and a large quantity of salt, was totally destroyed. The loss on this building and contents will reach $5,000, on which there is only $2,000 insurance. Notwithstanding the heavy fall of rain, several other elevators and some residences which were in the immediate neighborhood of the fire, had very narrow escapes, and were only saved by hard work on the part of the citizens congregated at the scene.

AN EXCELLENT PLAY.

Given by the Frankie Jones Company at Lappin's Opera House Last Night.

Last evening the Frankie Jones Company presented the "Sea Wolf" before a fair sized audience at Lappin's Opera House. The play is a good one and gives scope for many fine mechanical effects. The tank scene was especially good, and was greeted with prolonged applause. The company carry much scenery, etc., which could not be placed upon the stage at Lappin's opera house owing to the small size and lack of accommodations for such work.

Master Jones took the part of "Lashie Marsden, the Sea Wolf" and played it to perfection. The balance of the company are good.

To-night the company will play
"Hearts of Oak," in which Master Jones takes a comedy part.

lemnized at the home of Mr. N. Havens,

Evans, pastor of the First M. E. church officiating. The many friends of the newly wedded couple will wish them joy and happiness.

BETWEEN THE ACTS.

The Tale of Woe of a Young Man Who Went Out for a Cigar.

"I lost my place in the store," remarked a young man this morning, "just because my employer was at a theatre when I went out between the acts. Last night at the opera house I saw a whole crowd of young ladies go out and come back again and it was all right apparently."

"Well, they drink soda water," his companion remarked.

"So did I; but that didn't make any difference. It was the looks of the thing that got my throat. But then I quit you all next Monday: I've got a place at St. Paul," he said, as he lit a cigarette, "and then I'll smoke cigars you can bet, and go out between the acts, too."

The superior quality of Snow Ball Baking Powder is attested by the verdict of hundreds of consumers and by its rapidly increasing sale. One wanted to give perfect satisfaction, and money refunded. Beware of imitations. Made only by Benger Coffee & Spice Mills, four o'clock and returned about six. In miles up the river by moonlight. All who attended report a very enjoyable time.

UNITED STATES FLAGS.

How and When they are to be Displayed on the Public School Buildings of the City.

CAPTURE OF A HORSE THIEF AT JEFFERSON.

Proceedings in the Circuit Court—Obituary Mentions—Many Other Interesting Items.

Superintendent I. N. Stewart, of the city schools, has issued the following instructions in relation to the placing of United States flags on the public school buildings, which will be found of much interest to all our people. The instructions and explanations are as follows:—

PURPOSE.

Flags have been raised upon the several school buildings of this city in order that the pupils may be taught (1.) to know the flag itself; (2.) to recognize it as the symbol of our country, not alone in its war power, but as representing its protecting power and its free institutions, and (3.) to stimulate a pure patriotism above creed or party in all state relations.

USES.

I. The flag is to be raised, (1.) on all state and national holidays; (2.) on the first and last days of school; each term; (3.) on commencement day; on the building and during any unusual educational meeting; (5.) by order of board, on the occasion of any general rejoicing of city, state or nation.

II. The flag will be half-masted, (1.) when ordered, or requested generally by state or national authority; (2.) by order of board on occasions of general mourning by the city, state or nation; (3.) upon the death of any teacher, superintendent or member of the board; (4.) on the building
